

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

AUSTRALASIAN ORTHODONTIC JOURNAL (AOJ)

The Australasian Orthodontic Society is seeking an Editor (part-time) for its official journal, the Australasian Orthodontic Journal, a bi-annual publication devoted and committed to publishing original papers on research, clinical orthodontics, developments and treatment. An important emphasis is placed on general as well as dental growth and development and its management.

Produced by De Gruyter (Poland), the journal is an online, open access publication that is available to Society members as well as the global orthodontic and dental communities.

The term of appointment will commence on 1 January 2026 and will extend for 5 years with an opportunity of renewal.

In general, the editor is responsible for the development of intellectual content, the overall success of the journal by liaising with the publisher, managing and co-ordinating expert contributions, reading incoming manuscripts, working with authors to develop and improve submissions and editing for content, accuracy and clarity.

Key requirements:

- The management of the journal incorporating relations with the editorial board, co-ordination with the publishers or other parties contracted to produce and distribute the journal.
- Professional English writing, communication and computer skills.
- A strong sense of responsibility, collaboration, independence, and a high level of self-motivation.
- A postgraduate qualification with experience in research – a PhD is desirable.
- The editor will regularly report to the Australian Society of Orthodontists' CEO and its Council.

Please include in your application:

- A cover letter incorporating a personal statement.
- A curriculum vitae
- Any supporting materials.
- The names and contact information of 3 referees.

Questions regarding the requirements of the position or an application may be directed to Kerstin Baas (ceo@aso.org.au).

The closing date for applications is 31 December 2024.
